

METHOD AND APPARATUS TO DYNAMICALLY PROVIDE WEB CONTENT RESOURCES IN A PORTAL

ABSTRACT

- 5        To display content in a user's preferred language, a content provider locates a layout information file to determine how to display the content. A layout strings file storing a layout string in a specific language is selected, according to the user's preferred languages. The content from a content provider and the layout string are then formatted as specified by the layout information file, and presented to the user.
